Ralph Evans Is Injured Trying To Save Falling Lineman

Daughter Of Pioneer Family To Wed At St. Francis Church

FATAL ACCIDENT TO EMPLOYEE OF P. G. & E. CO.

Former Sonoma Man Hurt As He Attempted to Break Fall of Fellow Employee.

Seeing his friend and fellow workman, A. E. Smith, falling from a high derrick on which he was wiring at Santa Rosa, and knowing that death or fatal injury was certain, Ralph Evans sought to break the fall of the descending body and was himself painfully hurt. Smith struck the ground with terrific force and died shortly after the accident.

Ralph Evans is a son-in-law of D. Kennell of Sonoma and was formerly a popular employee of the telephone company here.

A Petaluma account of the accident is as follows:

"A. E. Smith, former Petaluman, better known to his many friends as Bert Smith, a splendid young man who was employed as lineman for the P. G. & E. Company, was fatally injured Saturday at Santa Rosa, passing away a short time after being injured.

"He was injured while at work on the monster new gas tank of the company at Santa Rosa, his chest and shoulders being crushed and he passed away at a hospital to which he was hurried after the sad mishap.

"He, with several others, was engaged in changing the wiring on a large derrick used to hoist the steel plates of the mammoth tank into position, when the rope he grasped suddenly slipped, allowing him to fall.

"Foreman Ralph Evans, the well known base ball player, made a brave

ROSENTHAL PUTS 'EM ON ROLL OF HONOR

S. Rosenthal, one of the flying squadron getting new members for the Valley of the Moon Chamber of Commerce, was assigned Sonoma City as his territory. Rosenthal was given to understand that Sonoma was hard-boiled but when he blew in here on Tuesday and interviewed our leading citizens, his smile began to expand until it reminded you of the Golden Gate all spanned. In an hour or so the live wire had put the following names on the roll of honor:

S. A. Robinson, A. Maffei, Marcy & Peterson, O. J. Maffei, R. E. Murphy, F. B. Ross, J. C. Gottenberg, W. W. Carter, O. L. Hose, A. Picchi, A. Clerici, F. Duhring, Central Bank, L. S. Simmons, R. Hotz, F. M. Burris, O. R. Wagner, W. F. Clewe, W. L. Murphy, H. F. Bates and E. Coates.

The Chamber of Commerce slogan is "We Do Not Want Your Money Unless We Get You." In other words the organization wants members who will take an interest, attend the meetings and be 100 per cent active for the progress and prosperity of Sonoma Valley.

A meeting has been called at the city hall, Sonoma, Monday evening, October 13th, at 8 o'clock. Everybody should attend and discuss a program of work for the coming year.

School Marms Advise Seeing Sonoma First

Putting into effect the excellent slogan "See Sonoma First" a congenial party of Sonoma school teachers visited the Vallejo museum Wednesday and were delighted with the relics and entertainment accorded them. Those who comprised the group were Misses Burchard, Cooper, Benson, Brother, Neuman, McConoche, Young and Murphy. Some of the teachers had been delving in relics at Monterey, and other California cities, so decided to become better acquainted with Sonoma's priceless treasures.

DEMONSTRATED FIRE ENGINE YESTERDAY

The Seagrave Fire Engine Company held a demonstration yesterday in front of the Sebastiani block. The apparatus worked well and spectators were well pleased with the demonstration. The city is in the market to purchase more fire fighting equipment

SONOMA GRAPES BRING WONDERFUL PRICES

The closing prices on Sonoma Valley juice grapes in San Francisco excelled all previous seasons, due to unprecedented demand and fine stock. The grapes, of high sugar content, arrived in good condition and found eager buyers at $125 per ton and better.

In former seasons, particularly where the grapes had been subjected to wet weather conditions, it was often hard to get rid of them and buyers were most exacting. When cars of grapes arrived they would shake up the boxes, go through them ruthlessly looking for mold, and turn down various lots right and left.

The past two weeks the buyer was permitted to taste one grape or one bunch and had to make up his mind quick, for the demand was unprecedented. Grape growers who sold early regret that they did not gamble on the weather and hold out for the big prices.

ROMA HOTEL AT GLEN ELLEN RAIDED

Wednesday night Deputy Sheriffs Ryan and Holmes and County Enforcement Officer Westphal raided the Roma Hotel at Glen Ellen and seized a quantity of wine and jackass brandy. The lessee of the place was in San Francisco and was unmindful that his premises were being combed for liquor which was cached in many out-of-the-way places. Eight bottles of jackass was found beneath a rubbish pile and ten barrels of wine also were seized.

The officers took the seizure to Santa Rosa as evidence against the proprietor.

The hotel, owned by Pancrazi, has been conducted by L. Rinaldi, who was released on $600 bail, charged with violating the liquor laws.

Model Sewage Plant Intended To Be Duplicated Here Is Condemned.

Sonoma City may have to go ahead with its $30,000 bond election for sewer extension to tide water, inasmuch as the substitute plan to be modeled afer the Santa Rosa sewer farm has been shattered by the news that the State Board of Health has condemned the Santa Rosa system, declaring it to be a failure.

The State Board of Health issued mandates to both Santa Rosa and Sonoma some time ago to clean up their sewer farms and Santa Rosa went so far as to vote $165,000 bonds for a new system. The money, however, was never spent, as the present city administration of Mayor Dunbar hit on the plan of improving the old sewer farm and believed it had arrived at an ideal solution of the sewage problem which would save the taxpayers thousands of dollars intended for a new plant. With the expenditure of a few thousand dollars, the old plant was entirely overhauled, rebuilt, added to and improved, much after the style of the city of Lodi, which has provided itself a model sewage system. For several months the Santa Rosa officials have been operating their plant with apparent success and as a result Sonoma City, confronted with the ultimatum to improve its sewer farm and advised to go to tidewater as the best plan, decided to investigate the Santa Rosa substitute.

City Engineer Specht did not advise it, believing that Santa Rosa had not given its new plant a thorough try-out, and feeling that it was still in the experimental stage. The Sonoma city trustees were inclined to think likewise, but public opinion, clamoring for relief from a probable $30,000 debt which would have to be assumed to extend to tide water had its weight and the board decided to try out the Santa Rosa idea.

Now comes the State Board of Health with the following letter to the Santa Rosa officials:

"You are referred to the orders of this board of November 6th, 1923, directing that those officials of Santa Rosa responsible for it, proceed to abate the odor nuisance and stream pollution resulting from your sewer farm, both of which conditions are in violation of the Public Health Act.

"You are also referred to the attached report of our Bureau of Sanitary Engineering on the inadequacy and futility of the make-shift efforts you have been attempting at the sewer farm this past summer. Your accomplishments and prospects of abating this nuisance are wholly unsatisfactory to us and an imposition upon the rights of others in that vicinity. We expect you to forthwith carry through the program for building a real sewage plant as proposed by those in authority in Santa Rosa last spring and for which bonds were duly voted.

"Very truly yours,

"W. M. DICKIE."

Impressive Funeral Is Aftermath of Fire Tragedy

At Masonic Temple last Sunday, with all the rites of the Order of which he was a member, the funeral of John Andrews was most impressive and the ceremonies as conducted by Worthy Master Hotz and Chaplain Burmester brought comfort and solace to the widow and family who had so recently gone through the fire which cost them the loss of their loved one and the destruction of their home. Despite the rainstorm a large concourse of friends, neighbors and lodge brothers attended the last rites and many beautiful floral offerings covered the casket. Interment was at Mountain Cemetery.

The late John Andrews was one of El Verano's most successful poultrymen and had a nicely equipped place near the western foothills which he and his good wife had conducted for some years past. A short time ago, while gathering eggs and with no warning whatsoever, Mr. Andrews fell, stricken with paralysis, since which time he had been confined to his bed in a serious condition.

Mrs. Andrews kept vigil at his bed side throughout many anxious nights and finally summoned her married daughters and their husbands to the family home.

Early on Friday morning of last week, a coil oil stove which had been left lighted exploded while the household slept, and but for the sudden awakening of Mrs. Venton, one of the daughters, the entire family might have lost their lives. Jumping from her bed and arousing the family, the first thought was of the sick man lying helpless and only partially conscious in the buring home. Two attempts were made to carry him out through the flames, one of which was defeated as Mrs. Andrews was struck on the head by a piece of burning timber as she was helping to lift her husband through the bedroom door. The son-in-law, Kenneth Saunders, then rushed in and despite painful burns carried the sick man through the fire while other members of the family took their mother to a place of safety. Mr. Andrews died of shock shortly after.

The family lost all their possessions in the fire, including the clothing of the daughters and their husbands who had come prepared for an indefinite visit. Kind friends and neighbors supplied them with temporary wearing apparel and otherwise provided for the victims of the sad tragedy.

Mrs. Andrews plans to make her future home with her children and will dispose of her Sonoma Valley property.

The late John Andrews was a native of Australia, aged 56 years.

Long Distance Reeord Held By This Student

Donald Cundiff, who is editor of the High School notes in this issue of the Sonoma Index-Tribune, has the distinction of being the student who comes the farthest distance every day to attend the local school. Cundiff hails from the Enterprise District, and early every morning walks two miles over the hills to make connection with one of the school busses which stops at the Cowan ranch. He is a Junior and evidently believes that a High School education is worth going after.

POLITICAL SPEAKER COMING WEDNESDAY

If you want to hear a fine talk on the coming presidential election, be in Sonoma at 8 o'clock Wedesday evening. Senator Shortridge, or some noted talker from Republican headquarters will address a Sonoma audience on the street, weather permitting, that evening.

JUPITER PLUVIUS SENT SPECIAL RAINFALL HERE

Sonoma Valley was treated last Sunday to the first rain in many months and Jupiter Pluvius evidently thinking that we needed it sent a special supply from the heavens, the rain guage indicating that this valley got 1.45 inches, more than in any section of California. Without any preliminaries other than a gusty wind rain began to fall early Sunday morning and continued unabated throughout the day. By noon the county roads looked as though it had been raining for a week and the entire country got a splendid soaking.

While some of the grapes were unpicked they did not suffer from the dampness other than to preclude their shipping east. However as prices were on the rise in local markets the growers were undisturbed.

Some plowing has already been done and with the ground now softened, much acreage will soon be seeded to grain.

MRS. BURLINGAME SPOKE AT PETALUMA

Mrs. Carrie Burlingame was on the program at the annual reception to teachers given by the Petaluma Woman's Club Tuesday evening. She spoke on the Sierra Club's trip to Glacier National Park and J. C. Javet of the Great Northern Railway Company illustrated her talk with lantern slides of the national park

Musical numbers were given by well known Petaluma artists and refreshments and cards concluded the reception festivities.

Mrs. Burlingame, Mrs. Rae Hunter and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Murphy motored over to Petaluma for the evening.

MISS FLORENCE GREEN TO WED T. H. CAMPBELL

Informal Wedding Will Mark the Nuptials of Charming Girl and Young Engineer.

Wednesday, at 10 a. m., St. Francis church, Sonoma, will be the scene of an informal, though beautiful wedding which will unite Miss Florence Green, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Green, pioneer Sonoma residents and Thomas Hillman Campbell, civil engineer of San Francisco.

The bride, an attractive blonde of charming personality, will be given away by her father and her bridesmaid will be her cousin, Miss Marian Bradley of Tiburon..

The groom will be attended by Edward Long and the ushers will be William Roden and Paul O'Shaunessy of San Francisco.

Madam Popova of Berkeley will render a beautiful solo.

A number of friends and relatives have been invited to the ceremony which will be preceded by a mass. Following the nuptials a wedding breakfast will be served at the Green home on Broadway to the newlyweds their attendants and close friends.

Owing to the early hour of the ceremony the bride will not wear a veil and the convential wedding gown, but has chosen a dinner dress of rich beauty with which she will wear a hat. Her bridesmaids will be similarly costumed.

The ceremony will be performed by Rev. Father Glaud, the Canadian priest, who is the assistant of the resident pastor of St. Francis parish.

Mr. Campbell is building a home at Burlingame for his bride.

CHARLES POTTER IS HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

Charles Potter of Schellville, who passed the fiftieth milestone on last Sunday, was given a splendid surprise party last week by Valley of the Moon Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, of which he is Worthy Patron. The surprise came after the meeting at the lodge rooms and had been arranged by the committee of which Mrs. Nichol was chairman.

Not until Mr. Potter saw a handsomely decorated cake with emblem of the Order and five gleaming candles did he realize that a birthday party was on the program. When it was explained that every candle represented 10 years and that the out of town guests from other Chapters had been invited to the event, the Patron realized that he was the guest of honor and that it was up to him to receive congratulations and make a speech. Words almost failed the prominent lodge member as he tried to express his appreciation of the honor and the tribute of the friends about him. After recovering from the surprise Charlie saw to it that everyone had a good time at his party and all who attended voted the affair a complete success.

Among out of town visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Al Stein and Mr. and Mrs. Welti of Santa Rosa, and Mr. and Mrs. Keig of Napa.

EL VERANO NEWS

By ARCHIBALD McKIVER

The coming of the third party presidential candidates to stump California is being looked forward to by thousands of supporters in the Golden State. Senator LaFollette is a great talker and campaigner, and his several speeches in California will draw great crowds to listen to the third party candidate and his views. LaFollette was not given a chance to get on the ballot in this state which fact, in the writer's opinion, will add to his popularity here. With LaFollette will be his wife, who is also taking an active part in her husband's campaign, and many women voters are making arrangements to give her a great ovation. From a general summing up of the political situation at this time, it looks as if "Fighting Bob" now holds second place and if enthusiasm continues, may go up a notch. His chances of carrying California seem very good at this writing.

The Young Ladies' Institute dance on Saturday evening, October 11th, at Union Hall, Sonoma, is the big excitement. The committee in charge has been working hard to make this dance the event of the season and as the advance sale of tickets is large, a splendid crowd will be in attendance, as many tickets have been sold in neighboring cities. The party last year is still fresh in the memory of dancers, and this year's event promises to excell all others. Al Ryders' dance orchestra of Vallejo will furnish the music while the popular members of the Y. L. I. will be on hand to welcome their many guess.

Miss Emily Kearney has been visiting in Oakland the past week.

Mrs. William Minkel has been visiting relatives and friends in San Francisco

Fred Venton and wife returned to Oakland Tuesday after being here for several days to attend the funeral of Mrs. Venton's father, the late John Andrews.

Many El Verano people were in San Francisco Sunday taking part in the Holy Name procession and also viewing the largest parade ever witnessed in the big city. 150,000 Catholics, taking part in floats and pageantry, told graphically the history of the Holy Name society since its foundation 650 years ago. The home-coming of Archbishop Hanna, who recently arrived from Rome, was also celebrated. This was one of the biggest demonstrations ever staged in San Francisco.

Kenneth Saunders, who was badly burned in the fire which destroyed the Andrews home last week, is recovering nicely. Mr. and Mrs. Saunders, nee Mae Andrews, and Mrs. John Andrews have taken pu their residence in the Larbre house, West El Verano.

Mrs. Charles Danieli and son Joseph motored to San Francisco Sunday where they spent the day visiting and taking in the Catholic parade.

The rain Sunday, which came from the weeping skies in torrents, was welcomed by Sonoma Valley farmers. The local S. P. rain gauge measured 1.42 inches up to 8 a. m. Monday, which is a much heavier rainfall than any other part of the state received.

George Gale of San Francisco was visiting home folks Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Harrington of Schellville were incoming Sunday morning S. P. passengers, enroute to Sonoma City.

Mr. and Mrs. Evans and Mrs. P. Smith were entertained Sunday at the Beach home, Sonoma Vista. The visitors reside in San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Barry were week end visitors to their summer cottage on Nob Hill. Mrs. Barry was called to San Francisco Sunday by news of the death of her sister in that city.

Pat Wyatt was a visior to Santa Rosa on Saturday.

R. E. Perkins arrived home last week after a visit of several weeks in the East. His brother, Harvey, accompanied him from Oakland.

The passing of John Andrews, beloved husband of Ellen Andrews and father of Mrs. Mae Saunders and Mrs. Nellie Venton, is being mourned by the family and their many El Verano friends and neighbors. Mr. Andrews had resided in El Verano for many years, successfully conducting a big poultry ranch. He was a native of Australia, aged 56 years. A large number of friends attended the funeral Sunday which was conducted by the Masons. Interment was in Mountain Cemetery. The pall bearers were J. Fleming, A. Joscelyn, A. W. Weaver, Fred Thompson, R. Murphy and R. Perkins.

Billy Baines, champion duck hunter, tells the scribe that the water birds are so plentiful up in the rice fields that if a window is left open in a home, the web-foots will fly in to the faucet to get a drink of fresh water.

Bill Preston was a San Francisco visitor over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. LaFranchi and son, Dave, were the guests of San Francisco relatives Sunday. They also witnessed the great Catholic parade in that city.

Mr. and Mrs G. A. Verbeck spent Sunday with relatives in Berkeley, returning home Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Lombard and a party of friends spent Sunday at the Lombard mansion on Riverside Drive. The party motored up from San Francisco and enjoyed a very pleasant week end here.

Pat Wyatt has been spending several days at the home of his parents in West El Verano.

Mrs. Kate Carriger was a visitor to Petaluma Monday.

On account of rain in the north and bad roads, the Perkins Brothers' show has returned to Sonoma Valley. Bernie Montgomery, local actor, who was with the troupe, is also back in his old home town after a successful debut as a showman.

John Boyes, Santa Rosa, is the first sheriff in the state to introduce the use of the radio in apprehending criminals. He suggests that all sheriffs' offices be equipped with the latest air speaking machine, which will get the news to the officers immediately after a crime is committed and will give the sleuths a better opportunity to run down offenders. A description of wanted persons broadcasted over the state will result in a speedy capture of criminals.

Jake Steckmeyer is in Humboldt county on an outing and hunting expedition.

The Misses Nonella and Steckmeyer were Tuesday visitors in San Francisco.

Mrs. Kate Murray has gone to Alameda, where she will be a guest at the Ed Dowdall home for an indefinite stay.

Miss Alma Toso, who frequently visits relatives in Sonoma, presided over a meeting of young writers at the Hotel Whitcomb in San Francisco last week and addressed the gathering. Miss Toso is a San Francisco school teeacher and heads many society events in the bay city.

Captain Tom Muldowney, retired San Francisco fireman residing in Alameda, was in town to spend several days here, enjoying the balmy climate of the Valley of the Moon.

Work has been started on the repairing of the county road west of El Verano, running to Glen Ellen. This is being welcomed by the taxpayers on this side of the creek. It is the intention to get this strip of road in ship-shape condition, which will be good news to the traveling public.

Due to a change in the time table on the Glen Ellen Branch of the N. W. P., effective October 10th, the morning mill will arrive at Verano station at 11:29 a. m., instead of 10:32, as heretofore.

Mrs. H. Hatton has been spending the week end at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Zimmermann, in Oakland.

Mrs. Henry Bates has been visiting her friend, Mrs. Ed Gise, at Benecia, and is reported as improved in health.

Mrs. Sam Agnew and Mrs. Archie Zell, wives of the Seal outfielders, are visiting at the Pete Compton home at Boyes Springs.

CELEBRATED BIRTHDAY AT CRESCENT ACRES

Mrs. Florence Meyer and her daughter, Dorothea and party of friends, came to the Valley of the Moon to celebrate Miss Meyer's eighteenth birthday, Crescent Acres, the hospitable home of Mrs. Pearl Erazmus being the scene of the joyous affair and week end party.

Many of the guests were students of the Junior College of San Mateo. The young folks enjoyed music, dancing, swimming, fortune telling and good eats while here and voted the outing a complete success.

Miss Meyer was the recipient of many nice gifts and congratulations.

Those who were entertained at Crescent Acres were Katherine McKeown, Mae McDonald, Lucille Snider, Adele Marsh, Muriel Donelson, Cecil Mork, Joe Best, Olin Hughes, Ross Morrison, Frank Rochet, Ivan Crawford, Mrs. Florence Meyer, Dorothea Meyer, Mrs. Pearl Erazmus, Miss Ida Miller and Joseph Cabainch.

BOUGHT HOME FROM WILLIAM DURANT

Mrs. J. Bolin of El Verano has purchased the William Durant property on Patton street. The former owner will go to Nevada to make his permanent home with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cheney of Sparks.

The property bought by Mrs. Bolin has a good frontage and is improved with a six room dwelling house and other outbuildings. The price is said to have been $3000.

The El Verano lady recently sold valuable property she owned in San Francisco and decided to re-invest some of her money in Sonoma realty for an investment.

F. Mosso, the jeweler, spent Sunday and Monday in San Francisco.

PIONEER FAMILIES ATTENDED MEETING

A number of well known old pioneer families of Sonoma Valley participated in the annual re-union of the Sonoma County Pioneers' Society at Santa Rosa last Saturday. Among those who attended were Ed Steiger of Glen Ellen, old settler, accompanied by his wife; Mrs. Amelia Bates, daughter of Louis Adler, one of California's pioneer merchants and ,rst councilman of Sonoma; Mrs. H. J. Wicker, whose father, Major Rufus, was a member of Stevenson's regiment and one of the earliest settlers at Forst Ross; Mrs. L. V. Emparan, daughter of General M. G. Vallejo, and R. R. Emparan.

Many venerable men and women, among the Aunt Polly Reynolds, of Healdsburg, aged 100, sat down to the banquet and enjoyed the gathering and speech-making.

Among the fine talks of the afternoon was one by Ed Steiger, and also a pioneer sketch by Miss Honoria Toumey.

Mrs. Emparan sang "I Cannot Sing the Old Songs," and for an encore her always delightful "La Paloma."

Mrs. Bates made a few appropriate remarks At the consluscion of the program the three oldest members of the Pioneer Society were photographed as they held an oxe yoke, a real relic of emigrant days.

GUARDIANSHIP ASKED

Petition for letters of guardianship in the estate of the late Joseph Van Wyl was filed in the superior court Saturday by Frank H. Phillips. The property consists of real estate and personal property to the probable value of $2500.

HOURS OF MASSES AT ST. FRANCIS CHURCH

The hours of masses at St. Francis church during the present season will be every Sunday at 8:00 a. m. and 10:30 a. m.

DODGE BROTHERS REDUCE THEIR PRICES

In view of the upward trend in automobile prices, considerable surprise was occasioned by Dodge Brothers recent announcement of a reduction in prices of their special type cars.

Dodge Brothers were able to do the unexpected, according to the factory announcement, on account of the increased volume of their purchases of special equipment for the special type cars.

Four Dodge Brothers cars are affected by the reduction—the special touring car, special roadster, special "A" sedan and special four passenger coupe. The "B" sedan and the business coupe have also been added to the line of special types.

As the reduction was made possible by economies effected in the purchase of equipment used exclusively on the special type cars, the standard types are in no way affected, according to J. H. Murray, local salesman. The prices of all standard types remain unchanged.

No Power Shortage— A Great Achievement

WITH pride, this Company announces that the perplexing problems presented by the long drought have been solved.

There will be no shortage of power in P. G. and E. territory this year.

All demands for electricity have been met. An increased consumption of approximately twelve per cent has been supplied. Nor will rates be increased.

Behind this simple announcement lies the story of a titanic struggle by a loyal and efficient organization against appalling odds; a fight that was fought and won in silence for a public unaware that it was going on.

California's homes, industries and irrigation depend much on electric power. California uses more electricity per capita than any other state. In terms of wealth and comfort, therefore a shortage of electricity is a serious matter to us all.

Electricity in this state is made primarily by turning a wheel with falling water. Thus fuel is saved. Steam plants, much costlier to operate because they burn oil, are maintained as auxiliaries. So, a water shortage naturally implies a power shortage and higher rates.

For eight years rainfall in California has been below normal, and in 1923-24 the seasonal precipitation was only forty per cent of normal. Stored water in the principal reservoirs north of Tehachapi attained only fifty per cent of reservoir capacity.

When January passed with the drought unbroken the P. G. and E. tackled the problem of making sure of a continuous, adequate service. For weeks the Company's intrepid scouts tramped the remote Sierras on snowshoes measuring the depth and density of what snow there was. Before the Company's engineers was the spectre of the summer's peak demand: the haunting fear that a day would come when factories, mines, farms, railways, stores and homes would be pulling on the lines together and would fail to find enough "juice" for all.

"Conserve water, and bring up steam production; work the steam stand-bys day and night, and get new steam power wherever possible" was the order, to which was added: "Cut operating costs to the minimum in order to meet the increased expense for fuel oil."

By a myriad of ingenuities and new contrivances every drop of stored water has been made to do unprecedented duty in power-production. A great steam plant, costing a million dollars, authorized January 31st, was completed and in service June 16th, a month ahead of schedule. Industrial steam-plants like those of the California Hawaiian Sugar Refinery, Mare Island Navy Yard, Northwestern Pacific Railroad, and the Hercules Powder Company, and plants disused because power bought from the Company is cheaper, were leased by the P. G. and E., oiled, and set to making current. In January the Company had 27 hydro and 5 steam plants. In September it was operating 42 plants. Cost of oil consumed leaped up three million dollars, but rigid economy in other directions held down the increase in cost of power-production so that no increase in rates will be made.

Luck was not kinder than usual. At a critical time, 144 feet of the Stanislaus flume, perched on a trestle 40 feet high, went out, and the break, 15 miles from the base of supplies, shut down a plant of 50,000 horsepower. This flume is 6 feet deep and 9 feet wide, one of the greatest in America. Shifts of heroic toilers made the repairs in 62 hours although the job was estimated to take 96.

At steam plants boiler troubles occur. Repairs ordinarily mean a stop of three days for it takes 24 hours for the interior to cool. In a particular instance a boiler was repaired in 22 hours. Some one went into that torrid boiler and removed the heated brick lining. It was all in the day's work.

Other setbacks occurred such as the prevalence of forest fires, damaging power lines and flumes, but the Company has met the requirements of the public without requesting help or favor. When new consumers asked for service they got it without a murmur. The farmer, who needed more power than ever before, was not denied. No new industry failed to get energy. The twelve per cent increase in demand for power was supplied with a smile, although there were whiles when the engineers felt a palpitation of the heart every time a stout passenger boarded a streetcar on the system.

And now, Victory. The farmer's pumping is done. The strain relaxes. We will fight tomorrow's battles with tomorrow's strength; but rain or shine the mighty Pit No. 3 will come in next season and the Company has no fear of the year ahead.

Contributing to that victory, a victory of which the public get all the fruits, was, first, a devoted and efficient organization, comprising 11,600 employes, always on their toes, guided by initiative and foresight, ambitious to maintain the unfailing standards of Pacific Service.

Then the fact that the P. G. and E., one of the largest hydro-electric companies in the United States, serves a wide territory, drawing power from numerous sources, favored by a great diversity of demand. No single plant, serving one community, could have met the situation.

Finally, the spirit of co-operation among the power companies of California who, for the sake of the public service, fed one another from time to time with surplus power, as the load here fell off, and the load there pressed harder, so that not a kilowatt of current went to waste.

When you think of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, picture a company with 11,600 employes and 30,000 owners, nearly all Californians—a company, serving the public faithfully and on the job in all seasons and at all hours.

PUBLIC CONSIDERATION PRAISED

The removal of all their billboards and advertising matter from the highways and from wherever this sort of advertising obtruded on the traveling public and spoiled the scenic attractiveness of the countryside has been a big feather in the cap of the Standard Oil Company. The United States Department of Agriculture has strongly commended the move and countless organizations and civic bodies have passed resolutions praising the public spirit of the Company.

In addition to many women's organizations which have an eye to the eternal fitness of things and believe in conserving beauty, the Sonoma Valley Woman's Club went on record as follows:

"Whereas, the many signs and billboards erected for commercial purposes along the highways have marred the scenic beauty, destroyed the exquisite vista, and have been detrimental in many ways;

"And Whereas, the Standard Oil Company has ordered the removal of all its signs so as to enhance the beauties along the highways and give more pleasure to the traveling public:

'Therefore be it resolved, that the Sonoma Valley Woman's Club wishes to show its appreciation by extending congratulations and sending a vote of thanks."

The signboard nuisance is a real nuisance and its bold, glaring intrusion on your attention, the mixed character of the appeal and its indiscriminate use has worn out whatever vestige of utility it may have once enjoyed.

Great, staring ultimatums, whether decorated with bulls, forests, schoolgirl complexions, particular men or bull dogs, have the opposite effect of what advertisers imagine and do not create friendly sentiment of prospective customers. Advertising nowadays must be more subtle, appeal to the intelligence, to quiet investigation when the mind is quiescent and receptive. This is where newspaper advertising excells. The majority of people look in newspapers for advertising. They are in a frame of mind to be interested and to get the facts. Quite different is the stae of mind of the exuberant motorist who gets out of the city to dodge commercialism and business and has it thrown in his face from every billboard.

Instead of pastoral peace, vast fields and verdant meadows, rolling hills and pretty valleys, he finds himself in the midst of tawdry billboards compelling his attention and hiding what his tired eyes seek. Companies which grasp the psychology of the public will follow the example of the Standard Oil Company and take their signs from our highways.

ROOSEVELT DENOUNCED LA FOLLETTE

Efforts of LaFollette supporters to convey an impression that Theodore Roosevelt approved of the political views and policies of the radical Wisconsin Senator and, were he alive today, he would favor LaFollette's election to the presidency, are denounced in truly Rooseveltian style in a telegram received by Albert Searl of Los Angeles from the late President's sister, Mrs. Corrine Roosevelt Robinson.

Affirming her conviction that her brother, if living would be fighting for Coolidge and Dawes, Mrs. Robinson referred to the fact that President Roosevelt frequently excoriated LaFollette as a menace to the country.

Her wire follows:

"My brother, Theodore Roosevelt, denounced LaFollette in 1912, in 1917 and in 1918, as the most dangerous and sinister influence in America. Any Roosevelt Progressive who gets behind Robert LaFollette is a traitor to Theodore Roosevelt. I am convinced were my brother alive he would be fighting for Coolidge and Dawes, as I am."

WINE CELLARS ARE GOOD TARGETS

The threatened wholesale destruction of wine by the government at wineries where convictions for selling have been sustained, is just another blundering step in the prohibition program and is about as just and consistent as the rest of the farcical performance going on in the United States under the dry era.

The wine to be dumped must be out of cellars where convictions have been secured for violation. However guilty some wine owners might be, their wine would be immune from official destruction, while the smallest offense of an unlucky offender would cost him the dumping of thousands of gallons of his stock.

If the government is to destroy wine in bonded cellars because of some offense, punishment for which has already been exacted, why not destroy all the automobiles of men found guilty of motor offenses? Silly is no name for such tactics, and in the name of the United States government.

As long as some wines are held to be legal and have a value, such as sacramental or medicinal, as long as alcohol has a value for any purpose whatever, it is nothing short of a crime, both economic and moral, to destroy wine and throw it into the sewers or down the gutters.

The economic crime is apparent to even the most fanatic dry; the moral sin of destroying and confiscating a product on which the government long prided itself should be apparent to all who believe in justice and the rights guaranteed Americans under the Constitution.

The whole matter in a nutshell is that prohibition is costing such a terrific sum and is such a miserable failure that the most vulnerable spots are being hit to make a showing. Wine cellars are good targets for spectacular performances while thousands of bootleggers, still operators, rum runners and smugglers infest the country and are putting it over on an army of agents hardly consistent with the economy program to which the country is committed.

Not until wine is legalized will wholesome conditions prevail and the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment cease to embarrass this country. In the very cellars marked for destruction and in every other cellar where the pure, natural product of the vine has matured is the solution of nation-wide temperance and respect for law which is just and equitable. The Volstead Act is both unfair and discriminating. It challenges the judgment and sanity of all other civilized nations and holds aloft this country as a "holier than thou" example, while its reeking wetness gives the lie to the boast and to the declaration that ours is a government of the people, for the people and by the people.

The present price of grapes, due to unprecedented demand of a nation determined to make its own is the wine cellar's best defense against wholesale destruction and confiscation planned by the government as a police measure and drink deterrent.

YOUR HOME PAPER

The publishers of newspapers in country towns evidently have similar experiences and are not unmindful of the big part they play in community up-building and the small part they get when projects for which they boost bear fruit. In Sonoma, when a big bond issue, for instance, goes over for streets or schools, the merchant who does not advertise at all or maybe budgets less than a dollar a week for advertising, gets big contracts for materials which is business directly due to the good work of the friendly home newspaper. Creating sentiment for improvements benefits the newspaper indirectly, but it brings business to the very door of many business people who should foster their papers and support them well that they may continue the big tasks frequently alloted them.

The Healdsburg Tribune says:

"A live paper is the best institution any community can have and it should cherish it as a tender flower and give it plenty of sustenance."

Another country editor declares:

"The most unselfish business carried on in any community is the newspaper business. The publisher has demands made upon him and his time and his space, which is his only stock in trade, that is wholly out of proportion to that given by any other business or profession in the entire community."

COOLIDGE ADMIRES MEN WHO ACHIEVE

Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., publisher of the Los Angeles Illustrated Daily News and the San Francisco Herald, has gone on record in favor of Coolidge and Dawes in the following statement:

"I desire to say that, regardless of partisan feelings, I join myself with many others who are glad that we had Calvin Coolidge to take hold of the reins of government at the time of the tragic death of the late Warren G. Harding. As Vice President and President, by word and deed, he has justified the faith which inspired his selection.

Vanderbilt recently visited President Coolidge at the White House and he gives an interesting picture of the man who political authorities expect will receive the greatest plurality in the history of the nation on November 4th. Here is Vanderbilt's re-action as told by himself in the columns of his publications:

"We talked mostly of California politics, Secretary of the Navy Wilbur, California newspapers, Los Angeles and San Francisco's development the Colorado River and the Veterans' Bureau.

"Quoting the President of the United States is not good usage, therefore I am unable to record here what we said, but suffice it to say the President is vitally interested in the growth and development of the West and that his heart lies not so much with the big corporation interests, as has often been said, but more particularly with men who, through bodily energy and their brains, have emerged on top."

The Herald tooted LaFollette's horn as a circulation stimulant, and not from honest conviction, as the above proves.

COMING SOCIAL EVENTS

Tonight is the night of the Y.L.I. dance in Sonoma and the regular October dance of the Glen Ellen Women's Club in Glen Ellen, so there will be plenty of opportunity for dance lovers from every part of the valley to enjoy themselves tonight.

The Young Ladies' Institute has Al Ryder's orchestra and the Glen Ellen Club the Merry Makers, so good jazz will prevail.

On November 1st the Native Daughters give their annual Hallowe'en dance here and are making arrangements for a fine party.

WHAT'S LIFE WITHOUT THE INDEX-TRIBUNE?

It had occurred to us before that life without the Index-Tribune must be dull and uninteresting, but our slant was all too mild. Now comes a subscriber who in renewing his subscription says:

"Enclosed please find $2 for which send me your paper for another year. I must have the Index-Tribune or life would not be worth living."

A nice compliment from a very intelligent reader, a man of keen perception, broad vision and, by the way, one of the best students of the Bible in the state.

WHY ARE WINERIES RUNNING FULL BLAST

The following is taken from the San Francisco Examiner of October 4th:

"Why are most of California's wineries running full blast in these supposed days of dryness and what do they expect to do with their surplus stores of liquor?

"That's what the Federal Prohibition Chief at Washington wants to know. They have asked S. F. Rutter, prohibition director, why the wineries of this state continue normal manufacture despite the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution.

"Rutter declares that he has launched an investigation into the peculiar situation. Last year, the director said, California's wineries manufactured 17,000,000 gallons of wine. This year, he declares, they have 40,000,000 gallons on hand.

"About one-fourth of this wine is used for sacramental and medicinal purposes, it is stated. At the request of the national head of the prohibition forces, Rutter is asking the wine men what they expect to do with their stores.

"Two years ago, Rutter said, the excuse was that there was a shortage of cars and grapes that could not be shipped East had to be made into wine; last year's weather, the winery men said, forced them to gather their grapes and press them immediately, according to Rutter.

"This year, with both good weather and plenty of cars, Rutter declares that the wine men say that they are storing up their supplies expecting the return of the 'good old days.'

"So the investigation is on for there is no legal procedure which can stop the manufacture of wine despite the fact that it cannot be sold to the general public."

The Sonoma Valley wineries are making little wine this year, although they can dispose of some of their stock to the local manufacturer of sacramental and medicinal wines who converts their product into the types required by Eastern purchasers. Thousands of gallons of Sonoma wine have been tied up several years now in local cellars (which means thousands of dollars tied up) and the hardship which the dry laws have entailed upon the owners can only be relieved by the legalizing of light wines. Why make more wine and become the target of prohibition headquarters when you can sell grapes for $120 a ton, let the householder make his own wine and take his own chances ?

This year the grape grower is on the selling end and does not have to salvage his crop by converting it into wine. It's the sellers, not the cellars who are doing business this season.

Arthur Kunde is leaving for a business trip East.

The Ligi building on the highway near Vineburg is nearing completion and will house a garage, blacksmith shop and service station.

Owner of "Pearl" Took Long Chance, but Won

An important connoisseur recently found in Paris, after a great deal of searching, an immense black pearl, a glorious thing with pink and purple lights in its dusky depths. He brought it to this country and took it to a widely known jeweler to have it set. A few days later the head of the firm sent for him.

"Mr. Z," he said, after they were seated in the invariable little office, "I'm afraid I've got something very disagreeable to tell you. I believe your black pearl is an imitation."

"Why," laughed Mr. Z, "That's impossible! I paid $100,000 for it at your own Paris house."

"Nevertheless," said the jeweler, "I do not think it is genuine. And there's just one way to find out—it seems to be such a perfect thing. If you are a very good sport you will let us crack it open. If it is the imitation we believe it to be, we will assume the responsibility for our Paris house and replace it. If is is real—well, you lose."

"Crack away," decided Mr. Z, after a slight pause.

The pearl was imitation.—Katherine Sprochule and Jane Grart in the Saturday Evening Post.

Mount Athos' Famous Monastery Destroyed

The famous monastery of Chilandari, on Mount Athos, built in the Middle ages, has been destroyed by fire. Mount Athos, the "Holy Mountain," gives its name to the northernmost of those peninsulas which extend like a three-pronged fork from Greece into the Aegean sea. It contains several monasteries and hermitages standing amid magnificent scenery. Access to some of the monasteries overlooking the sea is so difficult that visitors have been drawn up in a sack-shaped contrivance operated by rope. Chilandari monastery is famous for a most valuable MS. of the Gospels in gold letters on white vellum, probably given by the Emperor Andronicus Comnenus about 1184, and a treasure chest containing valuable specimens of Serbian ecclesiastical art. In 1916 Chilandari was raided by Bulgarian monks from the neighboring monastery of Zographon.

Caught a Monkey Stealing

One day in 1910 a well-dressed man, wearing a heavy overcoat, entered a jeweler's shop in London and asked to be shown some valuable rings. Those shown him, he said, were not quite good enough, and he asked to be shown another tray. As the attendant went to get it he glanced in the mirror specially set to show the counter when his back was turned, and, to his amazement, saw a long, hairy arm suddenly come out of the customer's pocket, seize a couple of rings, and vanish.

Assistance was quickly summoned, and the man and monkey arrested. His rooms were found filled with all sorts of valuable objects which had been stolen by this clever monkey.

Elephants at Work

In Burma there are large lumber mills, and elephants are used for rolling the logs into position for the saws, an exchange says. Pushing with their heads, they run the logs up two inclined skids to the platform; two elephants do the pushing and a third elephant acts as boss. In his trunk the boss carries a few links of anchor chain, which he uses as a whip if one elephant falls behind.

When the whistle blows they all know that it is time to stop work and eat. It makes no difference whether they have a log within a fraction of an inch of the platform; the boss drops his anchor chain and gets out of the way, and the pushers step to one side and let the log crash.

Buckskin

Buckskin, from which gloves are made, for the most part comes from Mexico and Brazil. The skins are usually smaller than those of sheep, and seldom perfect, because of the wounds or thorn scratches. The latter do not weaken the gloves, however, and, in fact, a visible scratch is pretty good proof that a glove is genuine buckskin. The leather is dressed in oil and the color is obtained with colored clay dust. Because of this method of coloring, every buckskin glove will dust off or crack the first three or four times it is worn. Buck leather is close fibered, soft after wearing and warm.

High School News

Last Friday night the auditorium of the Sonoma High School was the scene of a Parent-Teachers' Association reception. The parents and the teachers held a meeting while the pupils who had accompanied their parents were allowed to dance. After the meeting the older folks joined in dancing and card playing. Refreshments were served at a respectable hour, and all went home with a feeling of contentment.

A Junior meeting was held last Wednesday noon for the purpose of selecting one of a group of pictures purchased by the Parent-Teachers' Association of the Sonoma High School. The Junior class won their choice of a picture with their class nameplate on it last term by selling the largest number of tickets for the art exhibit given at the school. The result of the meetnig was that the majority of votes were cast in favor of the picture entitled "Spring."

The auto mechanics class, under the skillful guidance of Mr. Benton, has completed the setting up of their shop with the exception of the power saw. Delay regarding the latter is due to the fact that power saws must be installed in accordance with the law, which requires that a hanger be built beneath the floor.

Thursday, October 2nd, a Student Body meeting was held for the purpose of discussing problems that had arisen since the last meeting. Mr. Signorelli proposed an amendment to one of the articles of the constitution. The motion was made that one boy from the Boys' League and one girl from the Girls' League be elected to serve on the Student Body Board of Control. This motion will be voted on at the next Student Body meeting.

The Girls' League has again shown its interest in the school by staging a sandwich sale last Friday noon, with the result that a few more "Iron men" were added to the Student Body treasury.

The Ford educational pictures at the Don Theatre on Tuesday, September 30th, were attended by almost the entire physics class. They reported much interest and worth while knowledge gained. Everyone who attended now knows a little bit about the Ford automobile and the unsurpassable organization behind it.

The basket ball training season is due to start within about ten days. It is reported that a large number of students will try out or the teams this year, and it is hoped the Sonoma Hi basket ball team will come through with the block "S" again.

GREAT GRANDDAUGHTER OF VALLEJO IS MARRIED

Miss Noel McGettigan, daughter of Dr. McGettigan of San Francisco and granddaughter of Dr. Platon Vallejo, of Vallejo, was married Wednesday in San Francisco to Earl Douglass, son of a San Mateo millionaire. The wedding was a brilliant one at St. Mary's cathedral.

The bride is a great granddaughter of General Vallejo and was one of the favored younger members of the San Francisco social set.

QUAIL SEASON TO OPEN NOVEMBER 1st

Contrary to any reports, published or otherwise, it has been authentically stated that the quail season in this district or any other district, with the exception of District No. 1½, does no open until November 1st.

Each year a discussion comes up as to the correct date of the opening of quail season. A careful perusal of the fish and game laws will show the date above to be correct.

The season closes January 15th.

LITTLE DAUGHTER ARRIVES

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fiscus are the proud parents of their first born, a little daughter who arrived at the Burnsdale Sanitarium last Saturday. Mother and babe are now doing nicely.

A. Monotti returned Monday evening from a trip to the bay cities.

AUTO VICTIM FILES SUIT FOR DAMAGES

A suit for approximately $70,000 damages for permanent injuries received in an automobile crash several months ago has been filed by Mrs. Emma Laughnane, wife of J. H. Laughnane of Glen Ellen, against K. H. Brix and Eugene Mathewson, two wealthy Fresno men, who are accused of driving their car into the Laughnane car while intoxicated.

Mrs. Laughnane is still in a critical condition in the Ross Sanitarium in Marin county, where she was taken after the accident, and is forced to lie on her back, her body encased in a plaster cast as a result of injuries to her spine sustained in the crash.

The accident occurred on the Black Point cut-off on the evening of July 16th. Mr. and Mrs. Laughnane were returning to their home in Glen Ellen when their car was struck by the Brix machine which was being operated by Mathewson. Mrs. Laughnane was rushed to the Marin hospital and Brix and Mathewson were arrested in San Rafael shortly after the wreck and were taken to the county jail.

Officers declared that several bottles of whisky were found in the Brix car and both were pronounced under the influence of liquor when examined by physicians at the jail, it is said.

Mathewson was charged with driving a car while intoxicated, and Brix with the illegal transportation of liquor. Crimonal proceedings were started against the men, but were continued pending the outcome of Mrs. Laughnane's injuriees.

A tragic feature of the accident was that Mr. and Mrs. Laughnane were on the eve of their second honeymoon, having just become reconciled after seven years' estrangement. Mr. Laughnane had motored to San Francisco to meet his wife, who had just returned from Southern California, and both were happy over plans for the future in their home at Glen Ellen.

Dr. F. G. Dufficy of San Rafael, who is attending Mrs. Laughnane, declared recently that the woman may be permanently deaf as the result of a fractured skul and will probably suffer permanently from her injured spine. Mrs. Laughnane has been in a heavy plaster cast for several months following an operation on the vertebrae which were fractured. She also received three broken ribs.

Dr. Dufficy stated that the patient will be forced to remain in the cast for several months.

Brix is the scion of a wealthy family and is general manager of the Brix estates, near Fresno. Mathewson is a well known Fresno business man and is reported to be lucky.

Mrs. Laughnane is represented by Attorney W. L. Ware.

BOOK REVIEWS NOW OVER THE RADIO

Last year there were about 6500 books published in the United States. The average reader will find only a few of them of sufficient interest to be worth his time to read. So now comes radio to help him select.

On the KGO Monday evening programs, Joseph Henry Jackson, book editor of Sunset Magazine, tells listeners in his own pleasing honest way just what he thinks are the better books, and also something about the authors.

Next week's interesting radio program from KGO, Pacific Coast broadcasting station of the General Electric Company, will feature the following treats:

The good ship "H.M.S. Pinefore" His Majesty's "Navee," having sailed the comic opera seeas for so many years, has been overhauled and will be presented in the form suitable to the fancies of the great body of radio listeners, with thee very same Dick Deadeye, Ralph the Seaman, Little Buttercup, Sir Joseph Porter, and the fair Josephine in the cast. This will take place in the studio of KGO on Tuesday evening, October 14th, Carl Anderson directing. Entr'acte music will be played by the Arion Trio.

Featuring their jazz orchestra, the San Francisco Chapter of the De Molay, assisted by soloists, both vocal and instrumental, will contribute the second part of the Thursday evening, October 16th, program. On the first part of the program Rev. George W. Phillips will again be heard on the "Bolshevism of the Bee."

City people, as well as country people, may find instruction in the talk of L. W. Fluharty, specialist in agricultural extension, University of California, "Increasing Income Through More Effective Farm Practices," on the KGO educational program Monday evening, October 13th. A course in English by Wilda Wilson Church, book reviews by Joseph Henry Jackson, and an economics lecture will be included in the educational broadcast. Music for this evening will be played by the Arion Trio, and will include an original arrangement of melodies from the opera "Cavalleria Rusticana."

"You and I," a comedy with a prologue and three acts, by Phillip Barry, will be presented by the radio players at KGO on Saturday evening, October 18th, beginning at 8 o'clock.

EPH. WEISS COMING

Co-Partnership Savings Account

A Trust Savings Account protects your dependents against many inconveniences.

Operating and earning interest exactly like the ordinary savings account, the Trust Savings Account has the advantage of providing, in case of death, for the transfer of its funds to the person or persons you designate. This is done immediately and without court procedure or expense.

If you have a Trust Savings Account, you control the funds and have the right to change the beneficiary or add another's name at any time.

It is not necessary to notify the beneficiary. The Trust Savings Account affords an extra measure of protection and at the same time offers the usual advantages of the ordinary savings account—safety, accessibility and earning ability.

We will be glad to answer inquiries, verbal or written, concerning this effective and desirable savings account.

RANCHED GORED TO DEATH BY MAD BULL

While lengthening a rope by which a bull was staked out Augustus Pedrotti, member of a pioneer family, was gored to death Monday night by the animal at his home on the Healdsburg highway, just this side of the county farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Pedrotti had gone in the corral to add more rope to the one attached ta the animal's neck. While Pedrotti was working with the animal his wife cautioned him to be careful. Hardly had she spoken the words when the animal made a lunge at Pedrotti and knocked him to the ground.

Mrs. Pedrotti was able to crawl under the fence, but Pedrotti was pinned beneath the animal which crushed his chest and he died almost instantly.

DR. WILLARD BURKE CLOSES SANITARIUM

Dr. Willard P. Burke, who has conducted the Burke Sanitarium on the Mark West Springs road five miles north of Santa Rosa for many years, is planning to close the institution for extensive alterations and improvements which he hopes to have completed in time for the 1925 season.

Dr. Burke will devote the winter months to preparation of his new book, "The Whole Man," in which he will describe the theory and manner of treatment of disease. He has been engaged on the work for some time but owing to the many demands upon his time and energy has been unable to give the required time to the writing, hence the delay in publishing the work.

Mrs. Henry Koerner returned from San Francisco Monday after attending the funeral of a lodge sister, Mrs. Diebold, in that city.

Mrs, Rita Lewis was a passenger for San Francisco from Agua Caliente Monday morning.

CHANCE FOR FARMERS TO WIN A PRIZE

If you prefer to live in California there must be a reason—perhaps many reasons. California crops will bring in $15,000,000 more this year than last, and it may be that you are among those who are profiting thereby. The average California farmer produces $7000 in new wealth each year from the soil and is the richest farmer in the world. Some of this prosperity may belong to you. Perhaps you get your greatest comfort from the equable climate and absence of icy winters. Perhaps you are glad to escape the long months of idleness endured by farmers elsewhere. Perhaps you are happy because your family keeps well or because there is a better chance for your children or because you like flowers and mountains and the seashore or motoring.

You know best what your reasons are. Californians Inc., a non-profit organization of citizens and institutions interested in the sound development of the state wants to know why you prefer to live in California, and will award prizes for the best letters as follows:

First prize, man or woman, $25.
Second prize, woman, $15.
Second prize, man, $15.
Third prize, woman, $10.
Third prize, man, $10.
Five prizes of $5 each.

All letters received are the property of Californians Inc., and may be used for publication as desired. Letters shall be written on one side of the page only and shall include the following information in some form:

1. Date you came to California and former place of residence.
2. Kind of farming in which you are now engaged.
3. How much land you hold.
4. How many in the family.
5. What benefits you find here and not elsewhere.
6. Letters must not exceed 500 words.

Tell your own story in your own way, and send it in. Stick to facts. You know why you prefer to live in California. Write today if you can. Contest closes October 22nd. All letters postmarked not later than that date will be considered. Address the Contest Editor, Californians Inc., 140 Montgomery St., San Francisco, Cal.

This contest is limited to individuals or families who have come to California within 10 years. Awards will be announced not later than November 1st.

It is the purpose of Californians Inc., to use the letters for advertising purposes in national magazines, farm journals and newspapers throughout the United States by way of testimonial to the man who is thinking of coming to California, from the mouth of a man who is already here. The letters which are used in national paid advertising will be dated with he town or community from which they are written, and thereby give to those towns or communities some tremendously valuable publicity.

HOUSE IS RENTED TO STANDARD OIL MAN

The Durant place purchased by Mrs. Bolin this week was at once rented by L. G. Graves, local representative of the Standard Oil Company, who recently succeeded I. B. Hayter, who was transferred to Walnut Creek.

Mr. Graves' family will arrive today and they will soon be settled in the new home.

The many friends of Mrs. Bacigalupi, pioneer of Agua Caliente, will be sorry to hear that she suffered a severe heart attack last week and has been under the care of Dr. Thomson.

Miss Florence Green came up from San Francisco Monday evening to visit her folks here.

NAVY DAY OCTOBER 27th

American Legion Posts in every California town will be summoned to the colors on October 27th to observe Navy Day, which will be celebrated throughout the United States on that date.

"The objects of Navy Day are to pay a tribute to the past and present services of the navy to the nation," State Commander Nathan F. Coombs of Napa declares in his call, "and better acquaint the American people with what the navy means to them and to bring about a realization of the tremendous peace time value of the navy as discouraging war."

MARKETS

NEWS, COMMENT AND FIGURES

Chicago, Oct. 4.

Rye furnished the sensation in the grain trade during the past week, and at the close showed a net gain of 17⅞ to 18⅜c, as compared with the previous week, while wheat was up 8½ to 9¾c, corn 1⅛@1⅞c, and oats 4⅝@4⅞c for the week. Foreigners took provisions on a liberal scale with advances to a new high for the season on lard. The close was 60c@$1.20 higher on lard, 45c on ribs and $1.05 on bellies.

Rain and snow in the Canadian northwest which promises to delay the movement from there, caused considerable apprehension among shorts in the October delivery in Winnipeg and they covered freely. There was also backspreading between Chicago and that market and with some buying by exporters net gains there were 4⅝@6⅝6, with October $1.62 at the last, the highest figure on the crop. Calls sold at $1.72 thereafter until the close. Final trades on December here were $1.48¼ to $1.48⅜. May at $1.52⅞ to $1.53, with a high of $1.53½. July closed at $1.39¾.

San Francisco, Oct. 6.

HOGS: Firm to 50c higher; bulk medium 140-160-pound Californias, $11; some loads $11.50; 20 loads of choice Nebraska, $11.35@11.65; most middle western markets at new 1924 peak.

CATTLE: Firm; few loads, $7.75; few loads feed lots, under 1,000 pounds, plentiful; bulk, $7@7.50; mostly commission or directs; good cows steady, few 1,000-pound Oregon and Nevada, $5; four loads 896-pound heifers, $5.25; under grade liberal, weak; bulls steady; few odd head, $3.50.

CALVES: Market steady at close; holdover on heavy calves, little demand; few good 240-pound, $6.75; choice 200-pound scarce.

SHEEP: Heavy lambs weak, bulk good island 78-82-pound, $11.25@$11.50; over 82-pound, $1 lower; good to choice 75-pound full wools scarce; practically none here; medium lightweight lambs, firm. Few good 115-pound full wool ewes, $5.

HAY: Receipts have been a little heavier, but the market has been active and demand good, and prices for grain hay have been well maintained. General indications are for some advance in range of prices. Most of the receipts have been of better grades, as the cheaper class of hay has been shipped direct throughout the country for stock feeding.

Interior trading has been extremely quiet, as holders continue to be strong in their prices.

Export and coast shipping are still very quiet and dull. Honolulu is still under embargo and coast towns are buying very little, while practically nothing is going to the Atlantic seaboard at the present time.

Alfalfa has been weak, with prices forced. Stock ranges are apparently fully supplied, and dairies have taken about all that they can either store or pay for.

MILLFEEDS: Market is steady and firm, with an upward tendency. Corn, oats and wheat have all advanced in price in sympathy with the strong upward flurry of the eastern market. Barley is strong for both export and local use.

Seed grains are in demand, although many are waiting for the first rains. All other grades have advanced in harmony with the general grain market.

BUTTER: Following the 3¼-cent advance in prices of top scores this week, the closing tone was steady. Demand improved for all grades and the out-of-storage movement became heavier. While dealers have more confidence in the market, they are not overlooking any opportunity to move storage butter.

CHEESE: The general condition of the market improved during the week following increased demand and rather light supplies. California fancy flats advanced 1c from Monday to Saturday.

EGGS: Demand for fancy fresh eggs fell off this week, probably due to heavier use of storage goods. Extras closed ½c and pullets 1c lower than last Saturday, but the closing tone was steady.

Pershing Sails for Switzerland

New York.—General John J. Pershing sailed on the Leviathan to visit his son, who is at school in Switzerland. Asked whether he would accept a post as secretary of war in the next administration if it were tendered him, General Pershing grinned and said: "Why, that would be right in my line. But, honestly, I hadn't given it a thought."

Will Operate on McAdoo

Baltimore.—William Gibbs McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, will undergo an operation at Johns Hopkins hospital here for the removal of gravel from the bladder. McAdoo is now at the hospital and it is expected that he will remain for a week or ten days, according to an announcement by Dr. Hugh Young of the Hopkins staff. Before coming here, McAdoo advised John W. Davis, Democratic nominee for president, of his plans, and arranged with the candidate to make speeches.

Wide Variation in Vitality of Seeds

In the past there was perhaps no other trade in which swindling was so rampant as in that of the sale of seeds. The artless dealer of half a century ago adulterated his goods by adding a considerable proportion of boiled seeds.

The seed adulteration act put a stop to that practice, but not to the sale of dirty and old seeds. Most seeds are "dirty" when fresh gathered—that is, they contain a considerable percentage of weed seed, and all the great seed houses possess elaborate and costly machinery for cleaning, says London Answers.

Clover seed has to be carefully cleaned. If this is not done the result will be a crop of all kinds of pernicious weeds in the clover field. Some weed seeds, such as those of the dodder, are so tiny that it is almost impossible to detect them except under a strong magnifying glass.

Seeds vary in their powers of retaining life. While those of peas and beans will retain vitality for many years, others, such as those of the parsnip, are useless if kept over one season. Seeds of the willow and the poplar are so short-lived that unless they land at once in a moist place, they die in a few days.
